ST Math Status Alert Update

MIND Research Institute

Dear ST Math Partner,

Over the past few weeks we have experienced 4 distributed denial of service (DDoS) attacks lasting from 10 to 75 minutes. The attacks are similar to those you may have read about impacting other organizations across the world. DDoS attacks saturate our network with illegitimate traffic, effectively clogging the pipe and making it difficult to access ST Math.

MIND network engineers, our hosting provider, and a team of outside consultants are working around the clock to neutralize the DDoS attacks. We apologize that this malicious activity is making it difficult for your children to play ST Math.

Sincerely,
ST Math Support Team

Copyright © 2014 MIND Research Institute, All rights reserved.

unsubscribe from this list | update subscription preferences